ABOUT UNDER PRESSURE USA

John Hamling

Founder • Host • Underground Infrastructure Specialist
Helping the public understand the infrastructure beneath their feet.

27+ years specializing in underground water infrastructure.

For more than 27 years, I've worked in one of the most specialized areas of the water utility industry—helping municipalities and contractors maintain critical infrastructure without interrupting service.

Through hot tapping, line stopping, valve insertion, and other specialized techniques, I've spent my career working beneath the streets most people never think about.

Today, Under Pressure USA exists to bring that hidden world above ground—through documentary storytelling, field demonstrations, and real-world experience.

Through cinematic documentaries, field demonstrations, podcasts, and educational videos, our mission is simple:

Help people understand the infrastructure they rely on every day—but rarely see.
